

Air purifiers at the preschool reduce sick days

Preschool departments with air purifiers have almost 20 percent lower sick leave compared to the wards without air purifiers. This confirms the test made by the indoor climate company Albion Nordic AB.

- We felt that the air quality improved with air purifiers and we noticed that the sick leave dropped. The fact that the result showed almost 20 percent lower sick leave, confirms what we felt during the test period, says Frida Eriksson, manager at preschool Enögla.

For three months in autumn 2018, the municipal preschool Enögla in Enköping, Sweden, had air purifiers in five of its ten wards, with a total of 150 children. Among the children in the wards with air purifiers, sick leave decreased by almost one fifth, 19 percent, compared to the departments without air purifiers.

- In addition to more alert and healthier children, lower sick leave also gives enormous social benefits in the form of fewer days spent at home taking care of sick children. It also lowers sick pay costs for employers, says Johan Öberg, business area manager at Albion Nordic AB.

An efficient air purifier makes indoor climate healthier and clean. It binds pollen, dust particles and removes bad odors. The indoor climate gets better and that makes it easier for people with asthma or allergies to breathe.
